

The University of Genoa and the GenderEX project are pleased to announce the seminar with Mary Lou O'Neil, director of the Gender and Women's Studies Research Center of Kadir Has University, Istanbul, Turkey, on the theme:

Pronatalism and Reproductive (In)justice in Turkey

In more recent years Turkey has returned to its pronatalist roots. The rise of pronatalism and antigender forces in Turkey have led to an insistence on "women being women" and this has become narrowly defined as motherhood and the insistence of women continuing in largely traditional roles. This is seen in a restriction of reproductive health services ranging from access to family planning services, birth control, emergency contraception and abortion care.

The seminar will be held in hybrid mode on Wednesday 16th november, 17:00 - 19:00.
